Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-8 and 18-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Young.

Young shows a main body 32; ends at 31 and 34; opening/outlet 34; seal 31; U-shaped contour having bearing surfaces comprising continuous first and second planar, thickened portions perpendicular to the longitudinal and transverse directions of the main body as seen in Figures 7 and 10; wrapping tool 15-30; contour receiver seen in Figures 4 and 10; slot 26; open end 24, 25 that are not joined as noted in column 3, lines 20-25; and the slot engages the bearing surfaces of the contour as seen in Figure 10.

3. Claims 1 and 10-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bolz.

Bolz shows a main body 1; first and second ends 2, 21; opening/outlet 2; seal 13; U-shaped, discontinuous contour 13 seen in Figures 1 and 5 having opposed thickened portions perpendicular to the longitudinal and transverse directions of the body as seen in Figures 1 and 5; bearing surfaces as hole 16 and seen in the drawing figures; wrapping tool 20; and the cross-shape of the contour is seen in Figure 2.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Dunnican, Freed, Voigt, Balke, and Holzmark show other tubes with discontinuous or continuous contours.
